

First Supplement to FCC 11 – Krill Oil

Type of Posting: Publication Correction

Posting Date: 25–Jan–2019

USP recently discovered an error with the Krill Oil monograph as it appears in First Supplement to FCC 11. Some of the revisions to the Identification test for Krill Oil proposed in the December 2017 Forum were not included in the version published in First Supplement to FCC 11.

The file has been corrected and updated via Errata and became official on January 1, 2019 and will be incorporated in the online product for Second Supplement to FCC 11, which publishes on March 1, 2019. As of December 28, 2018, the correct version of the Krill Oil monograph can be viewed at <https://www.foodchemicalscodex.org/official-text/errata-table>.

USP apologizes for any inconvenience this may have caused.
